

Title: I gave up two weeks of my holidays – and it changed my life and school!

Workshop

What is the role of Lutheran Schools in developing wise citizens of the 21st century? What is the role of Lutheran Schools developing in students a heart for service and learning? How do Lutheran Schools go about supporting staff to develop as wise citizens who have a heart for service and learning?

They send them on a Teacher Study Tour with Australian Lutheran World Service!

This workshop will allow teachers to share their stories after spending two weeks on an ALWS Teacher Study Tour. They will share the impact of really learning about development and servicing people overseas. Most importantly, they will share how this knowledge has benefited their school communities to develop service learning programs and develop in students a heart to serve others.

Come with questions for those who have done it before!

Presenter - Susan Seng (and others)

Susan has been a teacher in Lutheran Schools for many years, and is now the Education Resource Development Officer with Australian Lutheran World Service. She is passionate about teachers learning about poverty and development so they can help their students become more informed citizens of our hurting world.
