This planning guide is a part of LIFE, a Christian Studies curriculum developed for Lutheran schools.

LIFE is a joint project of the Board for Lutheran Schools of the Lutheran Church of Australia and Openbook Publishers.

God saves people from sin and evil is one of twelve concepts covered by LIFE curriculum. This BAND B planning guide contains model units for three middle primary school year levels.

GOD SAVES PEOPLE FROM SIN AND EVIL

AIMS

The ultimate aim of LIFE curriculum is that

- students will come to know God as Father, Son and Holy Spirit
- students will have faith in God as their Father, Saviour, and Helper.

We understand that faith is entirely a gift of the Holy Spirit.

We teach in obedience to Jesus' command to go and teach.

*How can people have faith in the Lord and ask him to save them,
if they have never heard about him?
And how can they hear,
unless someone tells them?
Romans 10:14 (CEV)*

GOD SAVES PEOPLE FROM SIN AND EVIL

As Christians we believe this and are compelled to tell others.

Our aim in teaching this concept is that students

- hear,
- explore and
- reflect on

these faith statements:

1. Sin and evil ruin God's creation
2. God rescues people from sin and its consequences
3. God offers eternal life to all people

BACKGROUND NOTES FOR TEACHERS

GOD SAVES PEOPLE FROM SIN AND EVIL

THE ORIGIN OF SIN God could have created human beings as creatures for whom sin was an impossibility, but he did not want human beings to be puppets or robots. He gave them free will. Before they sinned, human beings could choose to obey or disobey God.

God put one restriction on Adam and Eve's life in the garden: they were not to eat the fruit of one tree (Genesis 2:15–17). The devil tempted them to question why there should be any restrictions at all. Why shouldn't they be on the same level as God? The first sin set the pattern for every sin — human beings wanting to be God, doing what they want instead of what God has commanded.

Sin is not just wrong actions, thoughts, words or feelings; it is above all a condition, a spiritual disease that infects every human being (Romans 5:12; John 3:6). The first (original) sin contaminated the whole human race; it corrupted human nature completely (Ephesians 2:1–3). By choosing to disobey God, human beings lost their free will; now we are by nature 'free' only to choose to go against God. The sinful nature we inherit from our parents is not just neutral towards God; it is actively opposed to God (Romans 8:7). We can never live up to the standard of goodness God expects: perfect love for God and for all people. As history and our own experience teach, any human being is capable of the greatest wickedness (Matthew 7:17).

THE EFFECTS OF SIN The fall into sin brought into the world guilt, disharmony, suffering, and death —spiritual, physical and eternal. It resulted in broken relationships

- with God. Adam and Eve tried to hide from God because they knew they were guilty and were afraid God would punish them (Genesis 3:7–10). Their sin put a barrier between them and God so that they could no longer live in fellowship with him. We are totally unable to do anything to repair our broken relationship with God.
- with ourselves. Guilt, bad conscience, fear, insecurity, despair and every other negative aspect of human personality can be traced back to the fall into sin.

- with other people. Note how Adam and Eve fell out with each other as soon as they fell out with God. They were ashamed of their nakedness in front of each other. A pattern of blame, disagreement, strife, self-centredness, hatred, anger and violence was soon apparent (Cain and Abel [Genesis 4], Flood stories [Genesis 6 – 9]).
- with nature. Nature now tends to work against human beings (Genesis 3:17–19), and we exploit nature instead of faithfully managing it as God's servants.

GOD DEALS WITH SIN As God had warned Adam and Eve, the moment they sinned they began to die physically, but they also plunged themselves into spiritual death (separation from God in this life) and eternal death (separation from God forever).

But God loved the human beings he had created. The Old Testament tells how God graciously rescued his people again and again. Through the events of their history and through his prophets, God encouraged his people to look forward to the time when he would send a Saviour to forever rescue them and all people from sin and its consequences.

WHY JESUS? Because God is holy and just, he cannot simply shut his eyes and ignore human sin. God's demands have to be met. The penalty for sin has to be paid.

God planned to send someone to take the place of all human beings. The Saviour had to be

- a perfect human being, uncontaminated by the original sin and guilt;
- willing to take on the sin and guilt of the entire human race;
- willing to pay the penalty for all the sin and guilt of the human race;
- able to overcome death and all the consequences of sin.

God is not responsible for sin and evil. Everything God created was good. It is the fault of human beings that God's creation has been ruined by sin and evil. The story of the Fall (Genesis 3) explains why there is sin and evil in the world and in us.

No ordinary human being could meet these requirements. God so much wanted to save the world and bring people back to life with him that he sent his own Son (John 3:16). Born as a human being, but perfect, free from sin and guilt, Jesus Christ lived for us human beings the perfect life we are supposed to live. He also took the blame for our sins and was punished instead of us. He defeated Satan and death for us by rising again from the dead (2 Timothy 2:9,10). For Jesus' sake God has forgiven the sins of the whole human race completely and unconditionally. Everyone who repents of his/her sin, trusts God's mercy and believes in Jesus has the forgiveness of all sin.

ETERNAL LIFE Jesus reconciled the human race to God so that God's original intention for human beings could be achieved, namely, that we can live forever in perfect harmony and fellowship with God. Whoever believes in Jesus has eternal life (John 3:16) as a present reality (John 3:36; 5:24) and as a future hope (1 John 3:1–3; 1 Peter 1:3–9).

Eternal life is one of the gifts God gives in baptism. All who believe in Jesus and are baptised are given new life as children of God (Galatians 3:26,27), and are no longer under the control of sin or under the threat of the law and judgment, but live under God's grace (John 3:18; Romans 8:1,2)

If we believe in Jesus we also have the certain and 'living' hope that life with God will continue beyond death. We will not 'perish'. Not even death can snatch us out of the Father's hand (John 10:28,29). We will still be in fellowship with God — which is what 'heaven' or 'paradise' means (Luke 23:43). Our 'perishable' bodies will be raised to life again to be like Jesus' glorious body (Philippians 3:20,21; 1 Corinthians 15:35–57).

The Bible uses picture language (eg in Revelation) to describe the bliss of heaven, which is beyond all earthly experience and human imagination (1 Corinthians 2:9). We will no longer be subject to the restrictions of physical laws (time and space; compare with Jesus' body after his resurrection) or to the things that now spoil our life — sin, evil, suffering, sorrow (Revelation 21:3–4). There will be only perfect joy (Psalm 16:11).

FOR REFLECTION AND/OR DISCUSSION

1. What questions do the Background Notes raise for you? What questions do you think your students will have on this topic?

2. Why is this an important topic to teach to your students? What implications might the topic have for the life of your school?

3. Comment on the following:

Adam and Eve together are the human race as God created it and as it turned away from its Creator — the human race as represented in every one of us.

The story of Adam and Eve . . . the man and the woman, is the story of all of us and not only of two people who lived long ago in a day with which we have no connection . . . We know them well, not from archaeological excavations, but from ourselves.

(The Church's Faith, Reginald Prenter p 52, 53)

4. 'There is no person so bad and sinful that his or her sins have not been forgiven.' Do you agree or disagree? Does this mean, for example, that God has forgiven the sins of people who go to hell?

5. Eternal life is both a present reality and a future hope. Do you think that in our church's teaching we emphasise both aspects sufficiently? Do we, for example, talk too little or too much about heaven? . . . too little or too much about life with God here and now?

BAND B STUDENTS

As a significant amount of the material dealt with in these units relates to sin, evil and the consequences of sin, it is of the utmost importance that students are reassured that God's love does not depend on people's behaviour; it is only by Christ's death that we have been made acceptable to God.

Plan sessions thoughtfully, emphasising the good news of God's love and forgiveness. Choose Bible stories carefully, avoiding those which could leave the students thinking that God is eager to punish. Select stories which clearly demonstrate God's love and forgiveness.

DEVELOPMENTAL CHARACTERISTICS		IMPLICATIONS FOR TEACHING
Students are developing an awareness of the reality of evil in the world and its consequences.	➡	In order that students don't become overwhelmed by evidence of evil in the world, it is crucial that the students clearly hear the gospel message, that God's amazing love has overcome the awful reality of sin and its consequences.
Students are beginning to recognise their own capacity for wrongdoing and to feel guilty about wrong actions.	➡	Be careful not to arouse feelings of guilt without assurance that God has fully dealt with guilt in Jesus' suffering and death.
Students are developing their thinking about moral issues.	➡	While students will be clearly hearing Christian teaching, take care not to pressure students into adopting a particular viewpoint. Initiate exploration of the purposes underlying laws or rules.
Students are developing the capacity to make informed and sensitive judgments.	➡	Introduce situations and role-plays which help to establish a sense of personal responsibility and an awareness of the consequences of decisions.
Students experience intense feelings and are growing in their awareness of sources or causes of feelings.	➡	Provide opportunities for students to discuss their fears and possible causes of the fears. Discuss feelings associated with sin and the consequences of sin.  When discussing feelings related to topics such as death, be sensitive to the needs of students who have experienced loss through the death of someone they love and may still be in the process of grieving.
Students are familiar with conflict in their relationships with family and friends.	➡	Assist students to acknowledge conflict as an aspect of their lives and evidence of sin. Help them to look for causes of conflict and for ways these conflicts can be resolved. It is important that the students hear the good news of God's love in sending Jesus which brings forgiveness into all situations.
